Essentially a tea plantation town, founded in the colonial era, a history that continues to date, Munnar is a hill-station situated at an altitude of around 1,600 metres (5,200 ft) above mean sea level at the confluence of three rivers that flow through the area. Munnar is also a favourite destination for honeymooners. The landscapes around Munnar are lush, draped in tea gardens, interspersed by evergreen and shrub forests and garlic, cardamom, vanilla, pepper, cinnamon, coffee, tea, clove and nutmeg plantations.

With temperatures varying between 8°C and 16°C in summer and 10°C and 0°C in winter, climatically Munnar is pleasant through most parts of the year.

Top Station

The highest point on the Munnar-Kodaikanal road. Travellers to Munnar make it a point to visit Top Station to enjoy the spectacular panoramic view it offers of the plains below in the neighbouring state of Tamil Nadu. It is also one of the spots in Munnar to view the blooming of vast stretches of 'Neelakurinji' flowers once every twelve years.

Kundale Dam /Lake

Kundale Dam offer one of the most spectacular views in Munnar. The dam has an artificial reservoir and boating facilities for tourists. The surrounding areas are carpeted with lush green tea estates. A narrow path above the dam is a vantage point to take in the scenery. For golfing enthusiasts the course here is picturesque.

Mattupetty Dam /Lake

Mattupetty located 13 km from Munnar is situated at a height of 1700 m and is a delight for nature lovers. Mattupetty offers many fascinating sights to relish. Besides the lush green tea plantations, and the rolling grasslands, the Shola forests in and around Mattupetty are ideal for trekking and habitat to a fascinating variety of birds. One of the main attractions in Mattupetty is the beautiful lake formed by the reservoir of the Mattupetty Dam, which are ideal picnic spots. Speed launches and motor boats are available on hire.
